MERITAGE HOMES

Designed for the Teams Who Build Communities

Project Overview

Meritage Homes is a top-five national homebuilder in the United States, specializing in energy-efficient, entry-level, and first move-up homes. Known for its "Life.Built.Better." approach, the company focuses on building affordable, high-quality, and tech-forward homes with rapid construction times, usually incorporating spray foam insulation and smart home technology.

Meritage Homes has been a long standing client of ours for the last 10 years in a variety of different locations throughout the southeast.

For this particular project, Meritage Homes in Charlotte wanted two custom executive conference room tables. They specified wanting pull out power drawers at each sitting position, and a stone top made from Carrara marble. Our design team and sister company Valuebiz Office Furniture picked two custom Nevers product conference tables, one small and one large. Full power integration was installed and hidden underneath the custom marble table tops. We managed a specialty stone vendor to come install the tabletop.

We also selected and designed two additional custom pieces of furniture for each of the conference rooms, which were buffet height credenzas in a sleek walnut finish and a pull out refrigerator built in for their staff and clients.

The end result was an impeccably designed series of conference rooms that were polished and modern. With RSI managing the project, Meritage Homes was able to have new workspaces ready to go with minimal disruption to their day to day. 49
